

Lisa Stöhr graduated from the Music Academy in Freiburg, Germany. In the Fall of 2006 she completed her studies in both piano and voice before continuing her education at the University of Freiburg, graduating in the Fall of 2008 in German Studies. In 2007 she participated in the CD production "Cum Tympano" with the historic performance practice ensemble "Spielleyt · Early Music Freiburg." In 2010 and 2011 she performed regularly with the "Kammerchor Stuttgart" under the direction of Frieder Bernius. Apart from her work as a singer she is also active as a teacher. Her focus and main interest is Early Music: Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque. In April, 2011 she completed a Master's degree with honours in ensemble singing at the Schola Cantorum Basiliensis - Basel, Switzerland and was the recipient of a scholarship presented by the Swiss Maya-Sacher Foundation.